

Four In Heated Race For SBP Job

Three In Election Race For Secretary

Marilyn

Grace

Karen

Student Body secretary candidates number three. Juniors Karen Bargman from Hector, Minn.; Grace Jahn from Sheboygan, Wis.; and Marilyn Lindstrom from Clear Lake are the nominees for the secretarial position.

"Student government should be democratic and therefore represent and respect the students' interests and desires. It should also attempt to increase the students' interest in striving for a better Student Body," stated Karen Bargman.

BESIDES CARRYING on the secretarial duties of the Student Education Association, Karen participates in Band and Choir. She was elected SEA president for next year. Last year she was class secretary.

"Student government must have a dynamic purpose to accomplish something for the Student Body; it should not exist for itself nor for practice of self-government. It is a means to an end," said Miss Jahn, an English major.

MISS JAHN, a junior senator who has worked as chairman of the Academic Life Committee, has had experience as acting secretary for Senate and Student Body meetings this year.

Besides being a senator, Miss Jahn is the Castle editor and the Trumpet feature editor. Membership in Alpha Chi, Alpha Phi Gamma, dorm council, SEA, Wartburg Players and Ushers Club fills up the rest of her leisure moments.

MARILYN LINDSTROM, an English-German major, feels that student government should represent the opinions and abilities of the Student Body.

Miss Lindstrom was a senator in high school and has participated on the Wartburg secretariat along with serving on the student government Public Relations Committee.

Alpha Chi, Band, Hans Sachs, SEA, Women's Athletic Association and World Affairs Forum keep Miss Lindstrom busy throughout the school year.

Student government fever reaches its annual high point this week when students go to the polls to elect next year's Student Body President.

Four candidates, Larry Collmann, Bob Boettcher, Dick Jebesen and Fred Mai, all juniors, are officially in the race for the post. Each will present his platform in convocations tomorrow.

All four are considered by present student government officials to be equally well qualified candidates. Because of this, Student Body President Norm Litzner predicts that "It will be the closest balloting in history involving four candidates."

"A close race will make it essential that students following voting instructions closely and not waste votes by forcing us to discard improper ballots," Al Snook, sophomore elections chairman warned.

Students will use the preferential system again this year. Polls will open at 8 a.m. on Friday and close at 4 p.m.

Fred Mai, Arts-Sem. Student, Seeks Prexy Job

MAI, the last to throw his hat in the ring.

Fred Mai, arts-seminary from Hill City, Kan., has served as campus congregation treasurer this year. A member of the Chi Rho executive committee last year, Mai is Chi Rho secretary this year.

Mai, who lettered in baseball, belongs to W-Club. He is also a member of the newly formed Alpha Chi, honorary scholastic society.

"My major improvement will be in the field of representation and communication between government and the students, if I'm elected," said Mai. "I'd also set up a fall seminar for senators to cut out inefficiency at the beginning of the year."

Bob Boettcher Wants Action On Committee Representation

English major Bob Boettcher, from Appleton, Wis., is presently vice president of his class, a dorm council representative and member of the Social Activities Committee. Last year he was class treasurer.

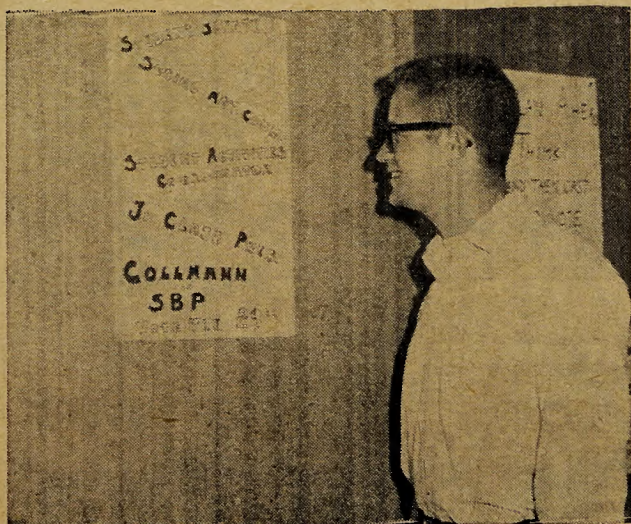

In addition to these activities, Boettcher is artist for the three publications this year. He has participated in four plays, the latest being "Dr. Faustus."

"I think there should be definite action on student representation on the Educational Policies Committee and better communication between government and the Student Body," said Boettcher.

Larry Collmann Serves As Junior Class President

COLLMANN points to a list of his qualifications.

Larry Collmann, junior business major from Manson, is currently serving as president of his class.

In the Student Senate Collmann is the Student Activities Coordinator. He was a member of last year's Social Activities Committee.

Collmann is a football letterman and active member of W-Club and Business Students Association. He is married and has an infant daughter.

"I feel that student government is an expression of the Student Body," Collmann commented. "I sincerely believe that the backbone of student government is the students."

Dick Jebesen Jumps Into Presidential Stew

JEBSEN, "A government to keep up with the growing family."

"It seems that student government at Wartburg is not keeping up with the advancing Wartburg Family. Therefore, I propose to do all I can to better fit the form of government to the needs of the Student Body."

With the above statement, junior Dick Jebesen, an arts-seminary major from Blue Island, Ill., announced his candidacy for the office of Student Body president.

Dick has had a total of three semesters of Senate experience, having served as sophomore class president and junior class senator for one semester. He was chairman of the Public Relations Committee last semester. His freshman class elected him vice president.

Chi Rho, the tennis team and working at the Cedar Lawn Motel take up most of Dick's spare time. He has been a member of Wartburg Choir.

Wartburg's baseball squad hit Parsons College for seven runs in the third inning of the first game to give it a 10-4 victory, and then captured the nightcap 4-3 to sweep a doubleheader here Saturday.

Marv Ott proved to be the man of the day as he came in as a relief pitcher in both games and allowed only one hit while facing 26 batters.

DON HEIN was the winning pitcher in the first game. He went 5½ innings before Ott came in to put out the fire. Aird was the losing pitcher for Parsons.

Jim Borcharding started for the Knights in the nightcap, but only managed to go 2½ innings when Ott again put down a Parsons threat.

WARTBURG PICKED up three runs in the first inning off Parsons' Towne and added another in the fifth to assure the Knights of their third conference win.

Hein's record now stands at 1-0 and Borcharding is at 2-0. Saturday the Knights will travel to Mt. Pleasant where they tangle with Iowa Wesleyan in a doubleheader.
